Granta users now benefit from a ready upgrade path to SiPass integrated, the most versatile, scalable access control system available today, successfully deployed worldwide in banks, data centers, government buildings, hospitals, small commercial/ retail/ supermarkets, offices, schools and apartments.

Over one million doors worldwide are currently controlled by Granta access control systems, offering comprehensive protection for Vanderbilt customers with one of the most successful, robust solutions on the security market.

However, Granta is now coming to the end of its lifecycle and there will be no further software enhancements. Installers can benefit from an opportunity to migrate Granta users to a system that can provide even more functionality and protection. A fully integrated future-proof solution that satisfies today's security challenges through modern, yet proven technology and demonstrates clear user benefits.

SiPass integrated offers a ready migration path from Granta, a natural choice for installers and end users alike, with a modern user interface, offering cost-effective integration with Vanderbilt Intrusion and CCTV solutions, as well as third party system integration into other CCTV solutions, Offline handsets and business systems, such as HR, T&A and email.
